

The ultimate lecture - ANTHROPOLOGY 101

BASIC Green Paper on Trident replacement

Worse than Irrelevant - British Nuclear Weapons in the 21st Century

271 and rising: Majority of Backbench MPs demand Trident debate

Blair has given go ahead for new Nuclear Weapons Developments

WMD AWARENESS PROGRAMME AT THE LIBERAL DEMOCRAT CONFERENCE

Exhibition on Trident

BASIC's latest update, 19 September 2006

Does Britain need to replace Trident? - You Decide

Churches issue Briefing on the future of Trident

Don't replace Trident!

Why Britain should stop deploying Trident

MSPs pass up nuclear weapon change

Trident replacement 'illegal'

UK remains silent on developing new nuclear weapons

Edinburgh: Cardinal calls for scrapping of Trident in his Easter homily

We'll save you cash on submarines

Scottish Bishops issue statement on Trident

Disarmament Diplomacy -

Beyond Trident - Information : The ultimate lecture - ANTHROPOLOGY 101

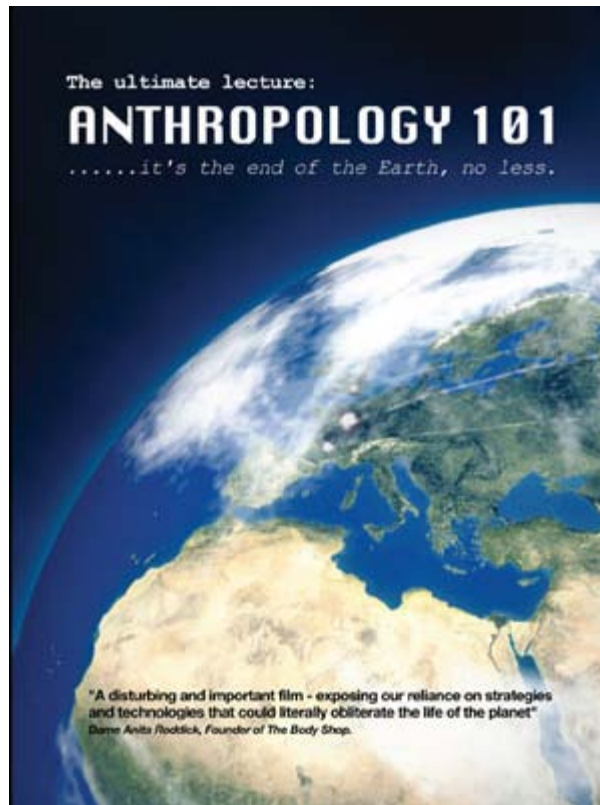

The Beyond Trident Group have a stunning new film to show the dangers of a civilisation unwilling to heed the warning signs of climate change, the widening 'Rich/Poor Gap' and nuclear proliferation.

The ultimate lecture:

ANTHROPOLOGY 101

.....it's the end of the Earth, no less.

On a distant planet in the not-too-distant future, an anthropology lecturer coolly examines the Earth people before their self -destruction. Through his diverse collection of images, both trivial and evocative, he pieces together a compelling, often disturbing, account of what life on Earth must have been like.

BAFTA's Actor of the Year, MARK RYLANCE, combines talents with celebrated musician/composer BRIAN ENO and award winning journalist, WAYNE BRITTENDEN

Issue No. 82 Spring 2006

Foreign Policy Centre report: The Future of
Britain's WMD by Dan
Plesch

Trident Briefing

Introduction

£100m laser project will mimic nuclear explosion

Use of Trident 'would be illegal'

Where are the UK's
Nuclear Ambitions Taking Us?

The Future of the British
Bomb

A Guide to UK Nuclear Weapons in the 21st Century

Why a debate on nuclear policy is vital

Renewal of US-UK Nuclear Cooperation 'in Breach of
NPT' say Eminent Lawyers

US-UK Mutual Defence
Agreement

Parliamentary Debate

Should the UK replace
Trident? - Medact Briefing

for this extraordinarily powerful production.

UK ENVIRONMENT FILM GETS TOP HOLLYWOOD HONOUR

The UK production Anthropology 101 has just won best environment short film for 2007 at Hollywood's Artivist award ceremony, held at the Egyptian Theatre. The film director Wayne Brittenden and Carol Naughton from the WMD Awareness Programme went out to Hollywood to receive the award.

For more about the Artivist Film Festival and footage of the award ceremony see:

www.artivists.org

Photos of the ceremony:

Carol with director Wayne Brittenden receiving the award for 'Best Short Environmental Protection Documentary' with guests at the festival including the Governor of California, Arnold Schwarzenegger's representative Araceli Gonzalez, Mr Claes Nobel and actor James Haven.

Watch a short clip of the film online:

Duration: 16 mins 15 seconds (including credits) Dolby Digital Stereo

Colour: PAL – 4x3 letterbox

"A disturbing and important film - exposing our reliance on strategies and technologies that could literally obliterate the life of the planet"

Dame Anita Roddick, Founder of The Body Shop.

Download the Order Form for PAL version: PDF \(13kb\)

DVDs cost £5.00 inquiries: carol@comeclean.org.uk

TV inquiries: wayne@pacenews.freeseve.co.uk

To order copies of the DVD in the United States, NTSC version, please see: <http://www.basicint.org/>

'Beyond Trident' is a joint initiative involving:

Acronym Institute for Disarmament Diplomacy – www.acronym.org.uk

British American Security Information Council – www.basicint.org

Oxford Research Group – www.oxfordresearchgroup.org.uk

WMD Awareness Programme – www.comeclean.org.uk

